

Dr Elizabeth Clisby

Sport and Exercise Physician (MBBS (Adelaide), FACSEP, Dip. Sports Med (London), FRACGP)

Dr Clisby has 2 post graduate fellowships. She completed specialist training in Sport and Exercise Medicine and became a Fellow of the Australasian College of Sport and Exercise Physicians in 2007. She also holds a diploma of Sports Medicine from the University of London and is also a Fellow of the Royal Australian College of General Practitioners.

Dr Clisby has over 20 years of clinical experience with sport and exercise medicine. She has been the medical officer to the Opals (Australian Women's Basketball team) & The Adelaide Thunderbirds, worked in the Athletes Village at the Sydney Olympics and is currently the medical officer for Tennis Australia SA and NT National Academy. She worked 2 seasons in the Australian ski fields gaining experience in acute sports trauma.